“Think & Act Globally”

The World Survival & 21-st Century Problems Centre International Foundation has conducted (jointly with the “International Scientific and Training Centre UNESCO / IPI” and the Ukrainian National Olympic Committee) a number of original fundamental researches using one of its resonant “KNOW-HOW”. Employing the “chakras” diagnostics (global indicators of distinguishing basic states of personality) we have made a quantitative and qualitative estimation of bioenergetics of famous politicians, prosperous businessmen, sportsmen champions, eminent scholars, heroes astronauts, variety and cinema stars, as well as yogis and “ordinary mortal” persons - in normal and extremal (force majeure) conditions of emotional and physical overwork.

In the report - for the initiated ones - on the basis of a large number of examples, some results of our researches are given. New revealed regularities and dependencies have been examined, which estimation even nowadays allows to solve more effectively in a real time scale the most urgent problems of rehabilitation and restoration of internal self-regulation system and distinguishing key personal properties (creative, volitional, communication, physical), which supporting “up to the mark” during overwork is required mainly for leaders of modern society - politicians, scholars, businessmen.

Rather significant arguments have developed as to the planning and realization of the deep reformation of science, medicine, and education on the basis of the new, global paradigm. Within the framework of the well-known concept of the mass “global education with the cosmic vision of life” planned in the 21st century (Prof. F. Mayor, UNESCO, 1990), the new paradigm is naturally orientated to the use of the unique spiritual and intellectual Vedantic experience of many millennia of the East. This permanent experience (unlike the rational experience of the West) considers such age-long fundamental and strategically important aspects of our being like “Karma”, “Akarma”, and “Vikarma”. On the way of the organic synthesis of experience of the East and the West, the modern civilization may avoid the increasing “zombing” of personality and its self-destruction because of the practically invincible (by traditional means) “chronic tiredness syndrome” caused by constant overwork of a karmic nature.

The diagnostics and restoration of “chakras” opens fundamentally new opportunities to solve the problem of physical, spiritual, and social human health in the New millennium.
